

Berwick Educational Association
'An Introduction to Irish Drama'
A lecture by Dr Richard Moore
Friday 6th April 2018 10am -1.00pm Berwick Voluntary Centre,
Tweed St, Berwick

It is often said that the Irish made up for poverty in material goods with richness of language and in this study morning we shall see plenty of evidence of the fact. Looking at some great plays, we shall examine the nature of the Irish experience, including (for instance) the enforced Anglicisation of place-names and the effects of massive emigration. This, however, will not be a gloomy session. Irish eyes will still be smiling and above all we shall celebrate the vitality of the Irish spirit and of a culture which produced some of the greatest writers in the English – as well as the Irish – language.

The cost of the study morning is £9 including refreshments. All are welcome and no previous knowledge is assumed.
